TOPIC:

“Business Opportunities
with Omaha Public Schools”

SPEAKER:

“Business Opportunities
with Omaha Public Schools”

Karlus L. Cozart, Sr., EMBA
Project Director,

Division of Economic Inclusion,
Omaha Public Schools

Karlus Cozart, Sr., serves OPS as a strategic asset by providing leadership, guidance, and accountability for the Inclusion of Small and Emerging Businesses in District-wide procurement practices and business protocols. He states the inclusion of diverse SEBs in the economic mainstream improves the stability and vitality of communities encompassing OPS Students, OPS's relationships with business Partners, and Greater Omaha. Karlus also creates opportunities that provide Students enriching education and engagement in Science, Technology, Reading, Engineering, Art and Mathematics (STREAM).

He is a decorated, retired U.S. Army Major with more than 20 years of experience as an Army Engineer Officer, where he led large-scale, multimillion dollar, military construction projects and programs. Cozart successfully led public and private sector business operations and held numerous leadership positions for diverse corporations in roles. His work in various leadership roles has earned him several awards, including the Army Engineer Regiment's Bronze Order of the de Fleury Medal, as well as five Meritorious Service Medals.
